Good Demand for Pittsburg Elevators and Fire Escapes.

ELEVATORS IN EAST END HOMES.

Our City Leads All in Provisions for Escape From Fires.

FLOUR SITUATION AND PROSPECTS

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, TUESDAY, October 1, 1880. A recent interview with a member of the Marshall firm, the only concern of this city engaged in the manufacture of elevators, developed some facts of interest hitherto, doubtless, unknown to many readers of this column. It was learned in the interview that elevators for fine private residences have become quite popular in the East End the past two years. The elegant mansions of E. Schwartz, Charles Lockart, the late William Thaw and a number of others, are thus provided with equipments for lifting inmates toward the skies. In the fine new residence of William Thaw, which the builder was not permitted to occupy, this provision was introduced on account of his rheumatic troubles, which interfered with the comfortable climbing of stairs.

A Prencher Has One.

Within the past few weeks a Pittsburg el-evator has been placed in one of the finest residences of Denver, namely that of Rev. Dr. Buchtel, paster of the leading Methodist Church of that city, and one of the finest of the land. Dr. Buchtel's wife is a daughter of P. T. Barnum, and in her letter ordering the of P. T. Barnum, and in her letter ordering the elevator, she said: "You have probably heard of my father." It is a coincidence that the great American showman should have a son-in-law running one of the most elegant Methodist churches of the country. The Denver church over which Dr. Buchtel presides is provided with an organ which cost $30,000, and the building was erected at a cost of more than $100,000. The ministers' wives who can afford to put elevators in their homes do not abound, but P. T. Barnum's daughter is an exception to ordinary rules, as her father before her was, and is.

An elevator is certainly not an inappropriate provision in a minister's home, and Pittsburg rejoices in being able to assist in raising Denver people toward the skies.

The Escaping Demand. It was ascertained in the interview that the demand for fire escapes represented by this firm and two others in this city is active. It was pleasant to learn that Pittsburg public school buildings and other large public buildings are more generally provided with fire es-capes than any other city of the land. It is the exception here and in Allegheury where large public buildings are not so provided. The fact was recently referred to in a Cincin-nati paper that Pittsburg was far ahead of that city in provisions for escape in case of fire. It seems that Pennsylvania laws are more stringent in requiring such provision than those of any other State in the Union. And of Pennsylvania cuies Pittsburg has come near-est to conforming with the letter of the law. The Flour Situation. E. H. White, of LaCrosse, Wis,, a representative of large milling interests of that city, and a member of the New York Produce Exchange, Exchange to-day. He said: "The quality of wheat in the North-the said: "The quality of wheat in the North-west has not been better for 20 years than it is this season. The recent rise was legitimate, because farmers have been holding back their good grades. Minnesota spring paten: flour had little show in Eastern markets last season. Winter wheat patents could be sold so much cheaper that our Northwestern flour was prac-tically excluded from Pittsburg and other East-ern markets. Winter wheat was much better in quality last year than this. Now the suring n quality last year than this. Now the spring eat sections are having their innings. The quality is extra good, and it takes much s of it to make a barrel of flour than it did a ago. The short crop in Europe is already ing heavy demands for export, and as again will go abroad this year as last. much again will go abpose this year "All that is wanted now is that speculators keep their hands off, and we are bound to have Wenkness Rules the Wheat Pit at the Opening-A Raily and Another Relapse, Caused by Depressing Cables and Free Selling.

CHICAGO.-Wheat, after a barely steady opening, again advanced about 1c before noon, where it hung for some time. The smaller class of traders were all pretty well loaded at the start, and as the boar element were quite conservative in their movements, noiders showed no disposition to weaken. There was at no time, in fact, any pressure to sell, and the market rallied well from all weak spots, not-withstanding the control of the co withstanding the increased interior movement and fine weather everywhere. Half an hour or so before the close there was a substantial reaction, and some of the early improvement was lost. The extreme weakness at the finish was due to depressed late private cables, and the free selling here by New York parties. The latest bids were 1/2 under yesterday's closing, and 1@1½c off from the best prices of the day.

A good business was done in corn, which was easy early and later somewhat firmer, but reacted some with wheat. The market opened rather weak at about yesterday's closing prices, was easy and sold off 1/4. Offerings of October were quite liberal, about 2,000,000 bushels being delivered on contracts. It closed a shade lower than yesterday,
Oats were quiet and steady, and without new features of interest.
Trading was only moderate in mess pork.

THE City Deposit Bank is a profitable institution. The profits of the last half year were sufficient to have doubled the dividend of 5 per cent, just declared, but the officials thought it wise to put a good proportion of the earnings into the sinking fund and surplus. President Thomas Brown says the bank was never in a more prosperous condition than now.

Among dividends declared are: City De

RUSHING INTO DEBT.

A Gentle Reminder to the Braddock Authorities to Go Slow.

Interesting Facts Connected With the Manufacture of Queer Money.

LOSS AND RECOVERY OF A GOLD DOLLAR

The authorities of Braddock are unquestionably level-headed and well ripe in business methods, or they would not occupy the positions they do; but are they not rushing into debt rather fast, and with too little regard to the fact that payday is inevitable? There have already been placed water bonds amounting to $85,500, bearing 5 per cent interest; street bonds, $15,000, 6 per cent, and school bonds, $30,000, 5 per cent. In addition, sewer bonds for $60,000 are now on the market, making a total of $190,000, a pretty heavy load for a small place to carry.

Commenting upon this state of affairs, a prominent citizen of Braddock said yesterday:

"I think the authorities should call a halt in the matter of issuing bonds. Taxes are almost as high as they are in Pittsburg. They amount to about $25,000 a year, not counting the school tax. This is a large amount of money, and should pay for a great many improvements. But what is there to show for it? I believe we have but one paved street. Too much attention is paid to mud holes. 1 am not kicking particularly, but I don't want to see the borough saddled with unnecessary indebtedness, and consequent ruinous taxation. That would repel capital and population—the very things that we need to build up the town. I think a little more conservatism in the management of our fiscal affairs would be profitable for all con-

The indications are that the month which began its career yesterday will witness the greatest expansion of business during the year. The dividends and interest disbursed by the banks and other corporations will set free a large amount of capital—probably $2,000,000 in Pittsburg—which will be invested in various ways, giving employment to labor and swelling the already large volume of transactions Manager Chaplin, of the Clearing House, is hopeful of a large inagease in the exchanges. He said yesterday that he would not be sur-prised if they reached a daily average of $3,000,000 by the end of the month. He is confident that the close of the year will find Pittsburg ahead of Baltimore. A notable feature of business this year is its easy and gradual growth. Unberaided and almost unnoticed, it as emerged from summer duliness to autumn activity. Cashiers, clerks and others who a few weeks ago were counting their fingers, are now counting money. The revival has a sub-stantial backing. There is a good demand for almost every product of the mills, factories and shops, and plenty of money to pay for it.

Concerning the money market, a Pittsburg authority said yesterday that the tightness re-ported in New York was not unusual at this season of the year. The large amounts sent South and West to move the heavy crops of cotton, wheat and corn would soon find their way back and relieve the pressure. There is no langer of a permanent squeeze. Capital had been scattered instead of concentrated at a few points. That was all. It would soon be con-centrated again. The East might suffer a little, but the West would not feel it.

There have been a good many ways of mak-ing "queer" money. Like all other experts, the shovers of the queer have made great improvement in their art within the last ten years. First came the photographic bank notes. They were made in two ways, known to experts as the "old" and the "new" methods. By the "old" photographic process the letters, numbers, and sometimes the whole back of a note were copied in black. Then they were tinted with a pen and brush by hand in order to exactly reproduce the colors on the original. This method of "queering" money has about disappeared. By the "new" method, the seal, numbers and color work on a bank note are first removed. A negative is taken from the black which remains, and from this photo-these pieces is pasted into a genuine note by cutting out a piece of the good note. By pasting, for example, nine good bills in this way, nine other pieces are obtained which, with one piece of the "queer," will make a tenth note. There is again the process known as "rais-ing." This is done by scraping a good note ing." This is done by scraping a good note until it is very thin, and then pasting in figures or letters of a higher denomination. In this ways five-dollar bill is speedily raised to a fifty. Perhaps the most expert "raiser" of money ever in the United States is Pete McCartney, who was arrested last year in New Orleans for raising one-dollar bills to $50. He has been en-gaged in counterfeiting for 40 years and is now a man over 60. Out West he is called the "King M. K. & T. Gen. 6s. 6b of the Koniackers," and the account of his adventures as given in the secret service records reads like a romance,

Still another way of "fixing" money is to Still another way of "fixing" money is to change the figures of a note by the use of acid; a higher number of figure is printed in the place from a plate. It is very difficult for the counterfeater to keep the acid from staining or blacking the near If the chamical small statement of the counterfeater to keep the acid from staining or blacking the near If the chamical small statement of the statement of bleaching the paper. If the chemicals spread $240,608 then the surrounding letters present more or PHIL. less of a damaged appearance.

An interesting story is told of a long search for and final recovery of a gold dollar. A young lady in Lambertville, N. J., had a gold dollar with a monogram inscribed upon it, which had been the subject of a great deal of which had been the subject of a great deal of which had been the subject of a great deal of the was attached to a bracelet by a dinary business loans on time are still made at dinary business loans on time are still made at showed plainly how it had disappeared. Search was at once made, but without avail. Finally an advertisement met the eye of an habitual loafer about town. He went to the house and said that he had found the dollar below the steps of the sleigh the morning after the ride and had spent it for whisky at a saloon.

The friends of the young lady determined to find the keepsake for her if possible. The bartender remembered receiving the coin, but had paid it over to a butcher. The latter recollected paying it to a drover in Trenton. The address of the drover was secured and a letter written him, requesting a reply at once. It soon came, and contained the Information that he had purchased a ticket to Philadelphia with the money on the very day the butcher had given it to him, and that the ticket agent had then remarked about the monogram. The search was continued. The agent remembered the dollar, and said that he laid it aside for a few hours, but that it was for-counts. The receiver of the New Jersey receipts at Philadelphia was next corresponded with. The beautiful monogram had been noticed, but the money had been deposited in the bank. The cashier was communicated with. His attention had been called to the initials on the back of the dollar by one of the clerks, and he had instructed him to place it aside for a few weeks. Unfortunately, in the absence of the weeks, Unfortunately, in the absence of the clerk, a gentleman desiring several hundred dollars in gold, preparatory to a California trip, had been furnished with the amount, and the little piece had in some way been mixed with that sum and gone westward. The gentleman's name was furnished and a letter was sent him. The remainder of the spring and summer passed with no tidings of the lost bauble. Finally, however, a letter was received from the gentleman stating that the letter had been nelayed owing to a mistake in the address, and had just reached him, but that he still had the dollar in his possession. The initials were the same as those of a young friend of his, and he had kept the coin on that account. On receiving the proper direction be promptly returned the gold dollar so persistently searched for, the curious history of whose wanderings affords an excellent example of how fast money travels.

The weak spots were La Noria and Electric, the former in consequence of the recent exposure, and the latter presumably occasioned by the unaccountable delay in promulgating the pending decision. A SMALL NOTE FAMINE

Unaccountable Searchy of Five Ten and Twenty Dollar Bills. There was a general complaint among bankers yesterday of a dearth of five, ten and twenty dollar notes. A cashier, in explanation of the famine, said: "I have never known a time when bills of the above denomination were so scarce. None of them are being paid into the Clearing House, gold and silver being used instead. Large amounts have been re-ceived from Washington, but without relieving the pressure. Where they go, how they are so quickly absorbed, is more than I can tell.

quickly absorbed, is more than I can tell. Large amounts have been sent to Johnstown, but they should have found their way back before this. It has been suggested that certain banks are hearding them, and this is about as good an explanation as any. One's and two's are abundant."

Business was of good proportions, especially checking and depositing, the former being heavy. Discounting was fair, but not as heavy as desired. It was said two or three of the banks were about loaned up to the reserve line. The majority of them, however, reported an excess of cash, but with a good prospect of finding employment for the bulk of it during the present month. There was no change in rates, which may be quoted at 5@80 con call and 6@7c on time. The exchanges were $2.181. 583 74 and the balances $420.570 80 showing a brisk movement in legitimate trade, specula-

583 74 and the balances $420,570 80, showing a brisk movement in legitimate trade, speculation being nowhere.

John M. Oakiey & Co.'s New York correspondent says: The money market just now is more interesting than the stock market, and the fluctuations in the value of money to-day were greater than of stocks. The last rates were 8 to 10 per cent, but lots of money was loaned at 12 to 15 per cent. The engagement for Wednesday's steamer of $500,000 gold surprised the street, and it must have been at a loss, as sterling exchange is 1 cent a pound below the exporting basis. The bond purchases yesterday were trifling, but to-day they were a little better.

The trouble seems to be that the holders of Government bonds do not want to loan their money in Wall street, and consequently are indifferent as to the rate. The disbursements of October interest by the treasury ought to put new runds into circulation, but so far this black which remains, and from this photographs are printed on sensitized paper. In order to get the colors an engraved plate is used for all the tinted parts of a bank note. Thus, the numbers are printed as in the genuine, in rolors from an engraved plate.

Another process of "queering" money is known as "piecing." This consists in cutting a counterfeit into eight or ten pieces. One of these pieces is pasted into a genuine note by Weakness predominated at the opening of the oil market yesterday. Itstrengthened up a little in the afternoon, but lost its grip again and closed under a cloud. What little activity there was, was caused by changing options from October to November. Pittsburg was a light buyer. The opening figure was 98. The highest 99%, the lowest 98%, and the closing 99. There was nothing new from the Jefferson center or the Callery Junction wells, but a prominent bull said he was satisfied. They lacked staying qualities. This had been demonstrated in the case of the former, and a little time would prove it true in regard to the latter.

THE RIG WELL SOLD. A Compromise Effected That Ended a Butler Fight.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 BUTLER, October 1.—At the Callery Wild Cat gusher there were preparations for war last night. Sheriff Redic was on the lease all night, while a lawyer slept at the nearest 'Squire's. Though there was some lumber hauled on the lease by one of the claimants, there was no violent disturbance. On the there was no violent disturbance. On the streets of Butler since early this morning there has been a running fight between the various parties interested. There were two or three exciting scenes in the lawyers offices, and until late this evening bitter litigation was threatened. At 8 o'clock a compromise was secured by the efforts of Showalter Bros. Wahl, Bishop & Co. and O. M. Russell, of Butler, paying $51,000 cash for the well and 110 acres of leases of this amount. T. H. Davis, the Pittsburg lawyer, received $17,000, W. E. Reed $12,000, Glisson & McBride $10,000, and Mr. McIntyre $35,000, the balance being paid to sundry parties.

GOOD GENERALSHIP

Prevents a Rod Slump in Railroad Shares as a Consequence of the Jump in the Rates for Money

-Bonds Dull. NEW YORK, October 1,-The stock market maintained about the same volume of business to-day in the regular list, but the unlisted department was much less active, while the weak stocks of the past few days were more quiet and moved within comparatively narrow limits, and the range of prices in most stocks was ex-tremely small. There were few features of in-terest in the transactions, but considering the high rates exacted for money the market was remarkably well held and shows conclusively that strong hands are in possession of the stocks in this market. Money on call to-day loaned as low as 6 and as high as 18, but there was a de-cidedly easier feeling at the close of the busi-ness. The dealings to-day were smaller outside ness. The dealings to-day were smaller outside of those of the professional element, and while London houses were sellers to a limited extent. Chicago people were doing almost nothing and the traders were bearish for a turn. There was no pressure to sell in any portion of the list and while the traders did some hammering they brought out very little stock, though there was again some liquidation induced by the scarcity of money and the engagement of $500,000 gold for export had for a time a depressing effect abon prices.

for export had for a time a depressing effect ipon prices.

Atchison was still the central figure in the market, and although the covering of shorts in the stock has been very heavy during the past few days, the short interest is still of respectable proportions, and to-day the stock was sold on the advances, and showed evidences of support on the declines. It is said that a large speculative interest has begun to buy it for a turn, but the principal reason for the steadier tone to-day was the payment of the Outober interest. The coal stocks were not so strong, and terest. The coal stocks were not so strong, and Jersey, after selling up to 131, settled back to 12734 on the marketing of a block of stock. The Grangers were attacked upon the report of the Burlington for August, which was not so favorable as had been expected. Manhattan was the one positively strong feature of the day, and it rose to 165% and closed at 105 on what appeared rose to 165% and closed at 105 on what appeared as manipulation. Pullman was also specially strong on western buying, and the remarkably good statement of the Louisville and Nashville did much to support that stock. The export of gold was inexplicable upon any grounds known to the street, and no explanation was to be had at the banking house which ordered it, and the effect upon the market was depressing in the extreme.

The opening prices were generally lower, the declines from last evening's prices extending to ½ per cent, and while the first few minutes saw a declining tendency in prices led by Atchison, a full and decided recovery took place, with Manhattan leading the upward movement. The reactionary tendency appeared as money crept up, and in the afternoon all the early gains were lost, the Grangers being the special point of attack, and Manhattan dropped 2 per cent. Toward the close a better feeling existed as money gave signs of easing up, and the close was dull but firm, though still at small fractions below the opening prices. The list is generally lower to-night, but there are no important declines, while Manhattan rose 2½ and Pullman 2 per cent.

The trading in railroad bonds was still smaller than the limited business of the past few days, reaching only $606,000. The market was steady to firm as usual, and the changes in quotations were confined to the same narrow limits. Iron Mountain, Arkansas 7s, rose 2 to 106%.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, LUESDAY, October 1, 1889.

Country Produce—Jobbing Prices.
The Elgin Butter Board at their regular Monday meeting reaffirmed prices of last week, and everything offered found ready sale at last week's rates. Cheese has been advanced, as our quotations will disclose, and at the advance markets are very firm. The demand for good eggs is active, but prices are unchanged. In fruit lines peaches are slow, chiefly because of fruit lines peaches are slow, chiefly because of the poor quality on the market. Grapes are weaker on account of liberal receipts. Oranges are firm, lemons weak and bananas steady. Both Irish and sweet potatoes are quiet and the drift is toward a lower level of prices. The sharp advance in potatoes last week has brought a good supply from Indiana and Illinois to our markets and prices are a shade off. The bulls who are working the notato famine for all and who are working the potato famine for all and more than there is in it are doomed to defeat in their effort. It is true that in this and many this season is poor, but in the West the crop is extra good both as to quantity and quality All the bull talk about potatoes going to $2 a bushel is simply bosh. The yield in the country is a full average, and if potatoes go to $1 a bushel the coming winter, this editor misses his calculations.

SHE HAD CONSUMPTION! SO THE DOCTORS SAID.

"I had a short, hacking cough, tightness in the chest, short breath, and I felt tired all the time. As I grew weaker I suffered with those terrible night sweats. My father took me to 29 physicians who said I could not be cured. I doctored with many physicians, but got no better. After 14 years of suffering I began treatment with the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute, 323 Penn svenue, to whom I owe my recovery. My cough is gone. I have no dizziness, ringing in the ears, head-ache or night sweats any more. The pain and soreness in my stomach have lett me. My food digests well, so that now no gas forms in my stomach. My throat used to be so sore I could hardly swallow. That is cured. I feel well and strong, and why should I not praise these doctors for thus saving me from such an untimely death?" MISS LV DIA MORGAN, Kearsarge st., near Virginia, on Mt. Washington.

Great Exterminator o Blood Poison.

I aw of the opinion S. S. S. should stand at the head of the list of blood remedies. I arrived at this conclusion from the testimony of scores of persons who have told me of the good results from its use. I have been selling S. S. S. for years, and it has won a large sale. C. A.
